MR. ROBERT DAVIS

Mrs. Davis,
Is a wonderful person & teacher who put up with so much. It's been nerve-racking, educational & fun!! Thanks you for everything!

SOUTH SIDE

Davis,

Whoops I mean Mr. Davis. me I sit trying my best to think of something nice to say. Seriously, Mr. Davis,
I have thoroughly enjoyed the past year in your class. You have been so understanding in all my blunders. Believe me, I appreciate it.
Although I didn't make an A+, I have learned much about chemistry because of your excellent teaching. Thanks for a wonderful year.
Best of luck and may
God bless you always.

Joyce Brittenham

Mr. Robert Davis,

Really now I didn't mean to insult you when I wrote my little criticism on the test. In all honesty (even though it hurts me) I must say you are one of the nicest teachers I have ever had - it's a true pleasure to have a person who will admit he's made a mistake -
The rest of everything always - Janice Carr

HIGH SCHOOL

Mr. Flavin,

You're almost rid of us.
Sorry!
really miss Chem class and service. I realize we've been trying to your nerves, but you've stood up well under the weary. I sincerely hope following classes appreciate your efforts as much as I have. Thanks for everything, you've done. Mr. Flavin.
I'm sure college chemistry will be as hard as it is for some others.
Lee you sometime
next year,
Barb Hennis

Mr. Flavin,
So a great teacher
tried so hard to teach me to "add and subtract!"
Chem. was just terrific and I'll always hold fond memories from it! I'll come back
next year - to chem
you & can really add - maybe college will help.

Through the seasons . . .

The scene . . . always the same, strong and firm, yet somehow always different. South Side High School, stressing education above all else, ably provides for the needs of some 2,000 students of all walks of life with many varied interests. At no other period in the school's thirty-eight year history has the education of America's youth been more important to the welfare of the people as well as the country. The future of the United States depends on the ability of its schools to teach not only subjects, but also to instill a never-failing curiosity and desire for knowledge beyond that available in required textbooks.

Throughout the seasons, the faculty and administration of South Side strive to meet this challenge in the best possible manner. By providing a varied curriculum and many different activities, Archerland is able to give all an opportunity to discover their talents and abilities. South Side stands forever ready to fulfill our interests.

"May we always well remember
All thy gifts to us so free
And pay homage to thy mem'ry
Hail, South Side High School, to thee."

1960! A year of triumph and disappointment, of excitement and boredom, of unforgettable parties, homework, and memories . . . and of our Totem. To capture the hustle and bustle of Kelly life, we planned to carry the idea of the sweep of time through the year.

After taking and retaking pictures of all aspects of Archer activities, we have tried to create a yearbook which will retain forever the spirit of 1960. All meaning of vacation was lost as we measured, cropped, and pasted for many long hours. Flaring tempers and slight disagreements added spice and variety to our work.

Under the watchful eye of Mr. James Rohrabaugh, our adviser, we searched for just the right ideas to present to you. It will be impossible to forget the never-failing assistance of Mr. Harry Cole of Clippinger's Studio and of Morey, Jerry, Irish, Frank, and Don, the pressmen. We are grateful for the lasting patience of the teachers, coaches, and students with whom we came in contact; and to our many staff members, who diligently labored in notifying teachers, writing copy, and retaking pictures, we give double credit. Finally, a special thanks to Dan and Roy for listening sympathetically to our never-ending problems and complaints.

Our work at last completed, we present the South Side yearbook . . . your book.

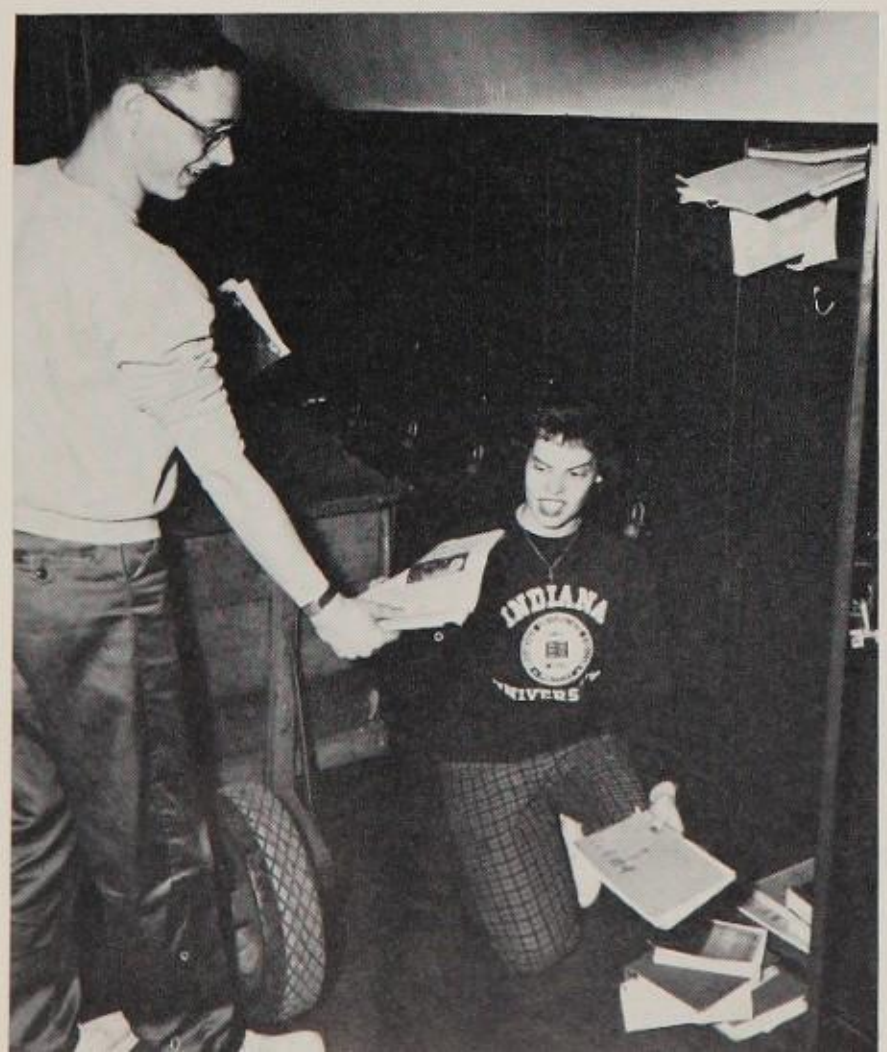
—The Editors

And now, sweeping with the time . . .

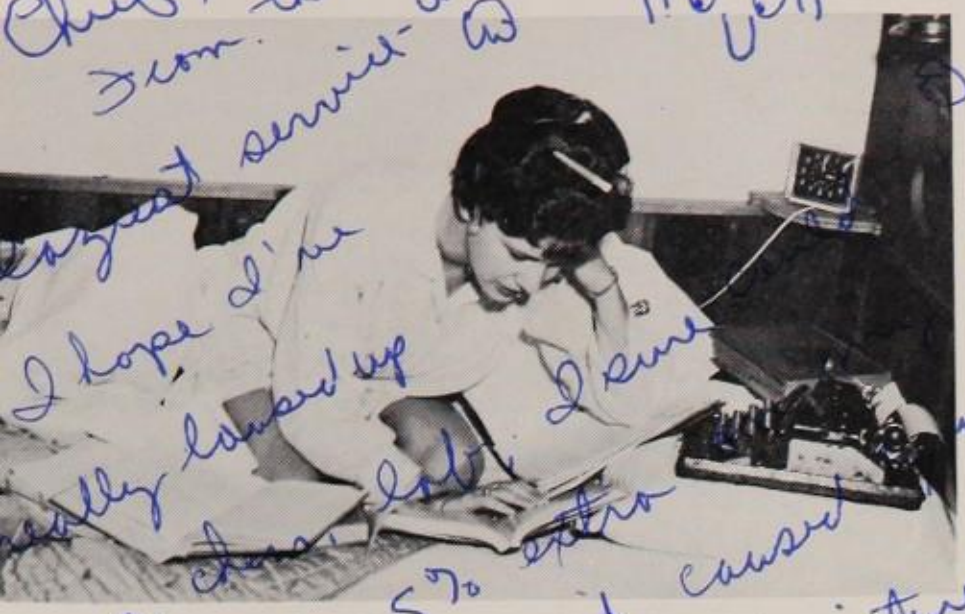
"But sir, you do have to pay an income tax," retorts Bob Thompson to South's "Grandpa" Dick Rothberg as cast members of "You Can't Take It With You," Geri Geller, Dick McGaw, Chuck Jellison, Nelson Kimball, and Joyce Brittenham look on in astonishment.

Through busy school

"Isn't that amazing," remarks Mr. Robert Davis, peering at Bob Duncan's mysterious concoction while Chemistry 2 students Janet Terry, Dan O'Laughlin, and Nick Roembke busily test their salts.



By the look on JoAnn High's face, "Uuulk!" expresses her thoughts on the whole mess of locker clean-up even though fellow senior Dick Erb ably assists her in this annual job.



"... three hours of sleep ... can't keep my eyes open ... why doesn't the print stop moving ... I'm hungry ..." Sylvia Ehrman's thoughts are familiar to all Archer students who eagerly pursue their education with unlimited enthusiasm.

Two South Side students illustrate one of the most important facets in our busy Archer lives.

...and after hours

Marcia Mosel is quite entertained by the antics of Chuck Jellison, but Bessie Ferguson and Dick Rothberg seem to be having their own conversation.

What grace! What poise! Dainty maidens, "Twinkletoes" Duncan, "Pavlova" King, and "Prima Dona" Lentz, trip the light fantastic at the Senior Banquet.

National Honor Society

Tag Day, March 10, "the" day in the minds of sixty-five seniors who happily displayed their green and white ribbons signifying membership in National Honor Society. After months of waiting and years of work, these seniors breathlessly heard their names called, telling them that they had been chosen on the basis of leadership, character, scholarship, and service. The new members attended a banquet in their honor on April 28.

"Sipping soda through a straw" are Dick McGaw and Barbara Wallace, who copped the honors of most handsome boy and cutest girl, respectively, for the fourth straight year.

It's a good old-fashioned sing! Providing the accompaniment are Geri Geller and Bessie Ferguson, both outstanding in activities. Wendell Eicher, who was chosen best musician, warms up his trumpet. Joyce Brittenham, also outstanding in music, joins with Kate Rastetter, chosen for extra-curricular work, for a duet.

Waving her fist in true oratorical form, Janet Terry, best speaker, demonstrates to her athletic friends Dave Barrett and Ken Howe the secret of her success.

Superlatives

"Now Sharon, here's the carburetor," points out Gus Wade; but Sharon Probst, the other half of the cutest couple, seems to be enjoying herself too much to be bothered by spark plugs and radiators.

Seated on the fence of the future, looking up to bigger and better things, are Merle Baldwin, girl most likely to succeed, and Penny Hunt, chosen for scholarship. Chosen as boy most likely to succeed and outstanding in scholarship, Dick Rothberg is a strong support for the venture.

"It takes two to tango!" And what better two than the best dancers of the senior class, Margo Dixon and Bill Lentz.

Pictured above are our capable senior class officers: Dick Rothberg, president; Dick McGaw, vice-president; Susan Van-Fossen, secretary-treasurer; Barb Frederick, social council member; Janet Lawry, chairman of the social council; and Ken Howe, member of the social council. These officers not only were responsible for the basic planning of our activities, but their "behind-the-scenes" assistance was invaluable and worthwhile.

Mr. Ronald Gersmehl and Miss Mary Graham, shown right, were chosen by the officers as our class advisers. The choices proved to be industrious, friendly, and extremely helpful, giving advice as well as actual aid. To these two teachers we owe a great deal of our success throughout this all-important year.

The Class of 1960 Remembers Archer Daze

"We will have these moments to remember." The strains of this memorable tune echoed through our minds and hearts as we relived, at our Senior Banquet "Leaves of Time," the many wonderful moments that we have shared as the class of 1960, moments that we can never forget. The unique banquet presentation afforded a fine opportunity to review the four exciting years we have spent as loyal Archers of South Side.

As freshmen we plunged into every activity, injecting our enthusiasm into all we met and pausing just long enough to realize that we were just a little afraid and bewildered. By our second year of high school we were in the swing, proud not to be the youngest in the school. For our officers we chose Phil Carson, president; Ken Howe, vice-president; Dick McGaw, secretary-treasurer; Merle Baldwin, chairman of the social council; and Janet Lawry and Dick Rothberg, members of the social council. Under their able leadership we planned and enjoyed an entertaining and profitable party.

In our junior year we were confronted with the challenge of school leadership; and we met that challenge with the tremendous capability reflected in our two class activities, our banquet and our memorable Junior Prom. These highlights were planned under the capable leadership of Dick Rothberg, president; Merle Baldwin, vice-president; Dick McGaw, secretary-treasurer; Win Moses, social council chairman; and Dan Tritch and Barb Frederick, social council members.

Quickly moving into our final year at Archerland, we Seniors proudly became the real leaders of the school. With the same enthusiasm we displayed during our first three years, we set out to make our senior year the very best. When we, as members of the class of 1960, look back over our Archer "daze," we will undoubtedly recall these and other experiences as our "moments to remember."

Underclassmen

Upper left: Fair weather ahead? Jim Carter and Bob Shine, scholarship, and Evilou North and Chris Parrott, most likely to succeed, turn weathermen. Chris was also voted best athlete.

Center: Matching brain against brawn are Bob Bolyard, another athlete, and Joan Stanton, Sylvia Ehrman, and Sally Capps, most active in activities.

Lower center: The secret of how Carl Johnson and Sheri DeYoung have become the cutest boy and girl is out. They're chemical wonders!

Lower right: The song "Bicycle Built for Two" must have been made for the junior cutest couple, Tom Duff and Pam Olson.

Editor for a day, Chuck Weinraub directs "This Wonderful Year 1959" as fellow juniors watch the newsworthy action of their banquet.

Class of 1962

Top left: Larry Lee, boy most likely to succeed, holds up the ladder of success supporting Babette Jones, girl most likely to succeed, and Diane Fredrick, Sandy Thorn, and Susie Horth, leading in activities. Babette and Diane were also outstanding in scholarship.

Center: Brenda Dull appears unhappy as Debbie Brooke, cutest girl, cuts in on her dance partner Stan Alfeld.

Lower left: Musicians Tom McMahan, kneeling, and John McNett prepare to enjoy a bit of culture with Karen Simmons, outstanding in dramatics.

Center: Ken Leakey and Ken Robinson, best athletes, display skill and sportsmanship in the manly art of croquet.

Lower right: Dave Wallace and Judy Evans, cutest couple, dream of days to come. Dave was also elected most handsome boy.

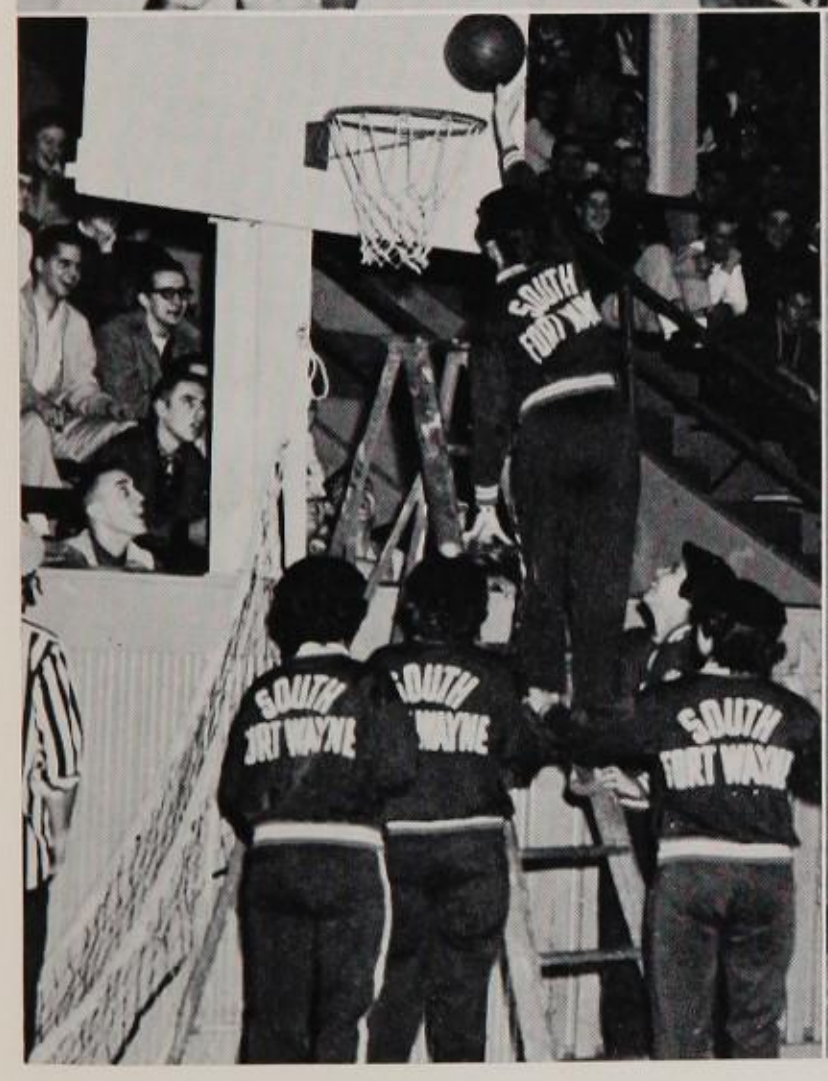
Top: "On Dasher and Dancer, on Prancer and Vixen," yells Ron Heathman to his team of snow-white horses with reindeer names.

Bottom: The Sievert brothers, Larry and Don, sign Totems and search for their pictures. A friend seems to have just found his.

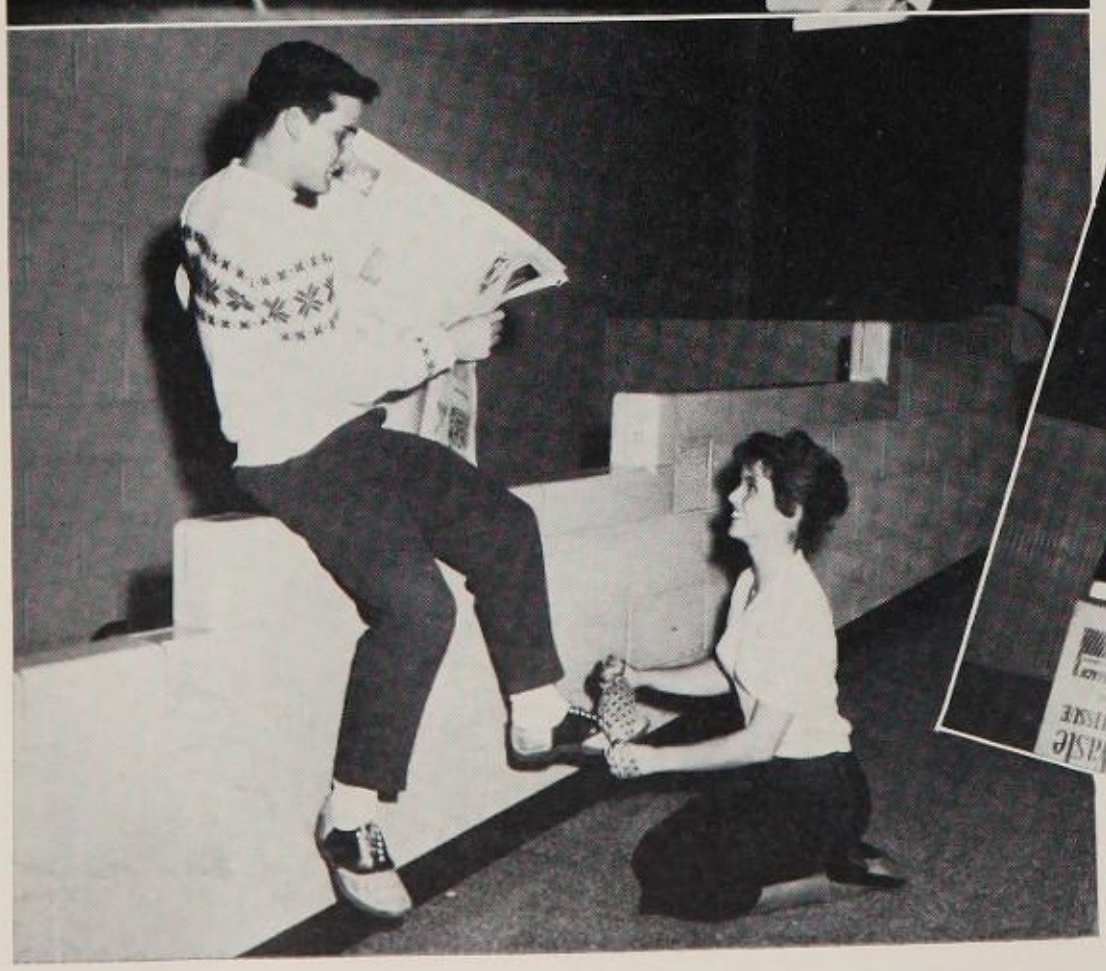


Upper left: Ferguson and friends! The question is, "How does she do it?" As her "friends" wave frantically to the camera, Bessie gaily laughs but refuses to tell her secret.

Upper right: Sue Springer, Pam Punsky, Barbara Monser, and Sandy Grodrian eagerly aid Steve Pratt in shining up one of the Times' many trophies.

Lower left: South scores again! With slight assistance from the ladder, Susie Carto dunks the ball for two points at a pep session.

Lower right: With all due respect for the dead, juniors Jack Winder, John Biteman, Jim Carter, and Dave Dill solemnly transport a body much to the amusement of the spectators.



Class of 1963

Top: "On your toes, Bob," instructs Marla Habecker, best girl dancer, to her partner Bob Lohman. They dance to the melody of best musicians, Karen Miller and Patty Slater.

Center: Ambitious freshmen Tom Erb, boy most likely to succeed; Nancy Goebel, best speaker; and Annell Hoover and Dave Tipton, cutest couple, clean up the halls.

Lower left: This is a switch! Cutest freshman girl, Nancy Robinson, shines the shoes of her handsome cohort Sid Sheray.

Lower right: Dunking Dale Hilsmier clowns with fellow best athlete Jerry Klaehn in a "typical" practice session.

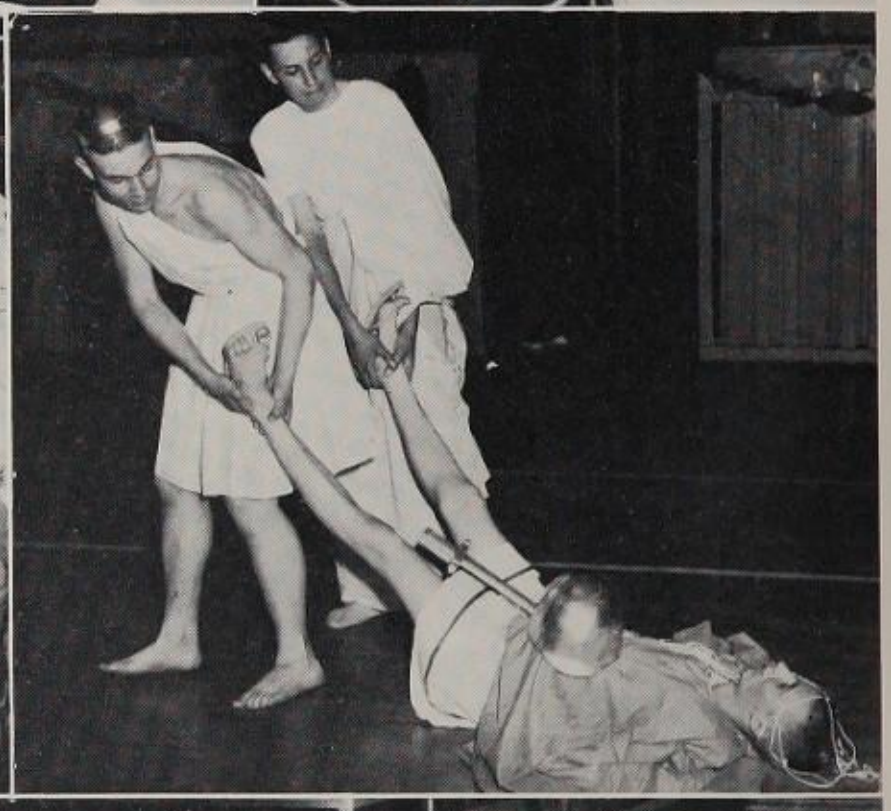
Typical winter scene? That's about it! The whirl of tires and the smell of rubber were familiar parts of winter as Archers were forever digging out of the snow.



Upper left: The freshmen are at it again! Clowning Tam Stech, Martha Dixon, Honey-K Martindale, and Marla Habecker dig the crazy bongo beat; but Nancy Goebel must be too far gone to join them.

Upper center: Organization is the keyword as the new library is arranged by ambitious Archers, Barb Collier, kneeling, Steve Black, Sandy Landree, and Karen Brumm, standing, who gave up their summer fun to help.

Upper right: Plan ahead! The 1961 Totem editor, Sally Capps, and her associate editor, Evilou North, begin early to search for just the right ideas for their book.

Center right: To the victors belong the spoils, including Jim Hill, who is being towed away by two fellow gladiators.

Lower left: It looks like a South Side touchdown as the Archer bench begins to clap, yell, whistle, and show the true spirit.

Lower right: Thirsty basketball fans purchase necessary refreshments to relieve sore throats and keep hoarse voices from completely giving out.

Faculty

Our Chief

An able guider and administrator is our principal, Mr. R. Nelson Snider, who directs the school's activities. Shown here, Mr. Snider points out Japan, the scene of his fall school-inspection trip for the government.

Keepers o

Smooth and efficient operation of the Archer machine is attributable to the sure hands of Mrs. Jack Weicker and Miss Frances Stobaugh, who handle the book store along with other important duties.

Executives

Our dean of girls, Miss Pauline Van Gorder, has a special interest in every South Sider and is inexhaustible in her efforts to aid all students. She is always available to lend a helping hand.

To assist each one of us in the choice of a college or business career is the goal of our guidance director, Mr. Ora M. Davis, who supplies helpful information as well as advice.

Brushes and Crushes

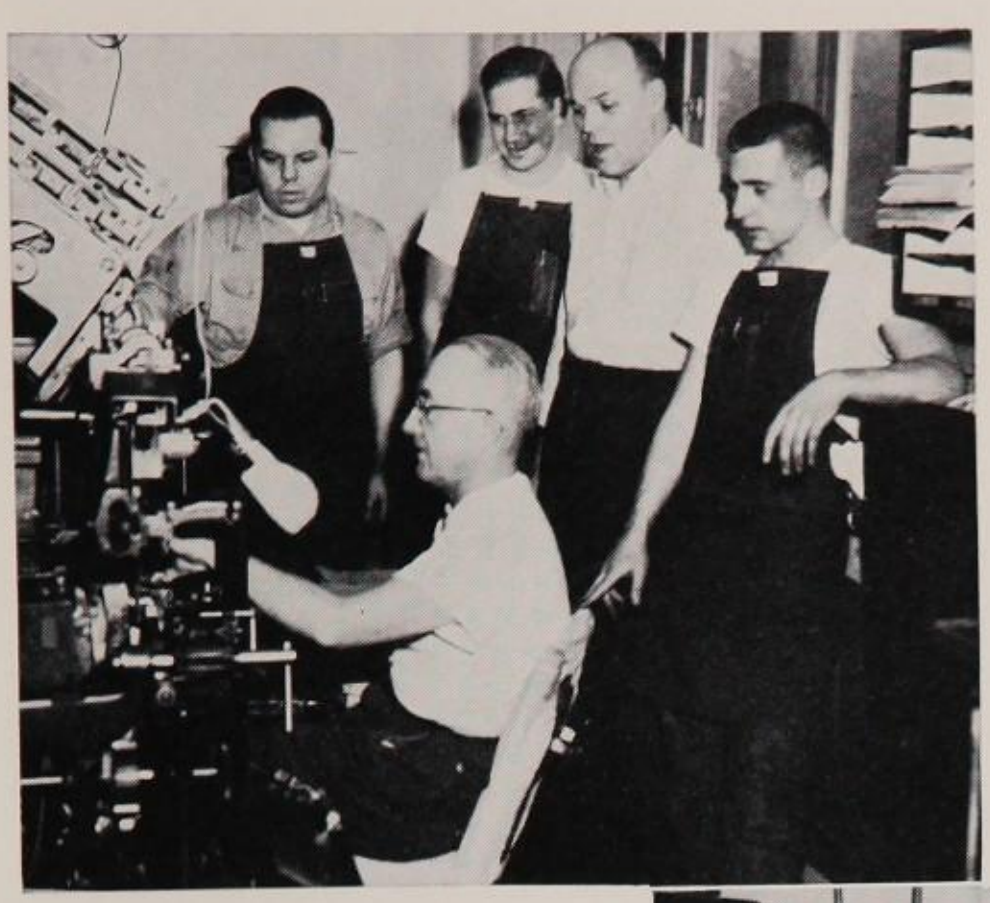
Is there a doctor in the house? Aided by Mr. Preston Brown, Tom Galland secures a sling on Jack Seigel's "broken" arm while John Knight applies artificial respiration to Dennis Barryhill.



Pressmen

Setting type and printing all school publications are the jobs of the printers and pressman. Watching as Linotypist Verne Ireland prepares another issue of The South Side Times are, left to right, Frank Reed, Maurice Forkert, Jerry Romary, and Don Campbell.

Custodians

Cooks

Upper right: Coach Don Reichert's face indicates that the scouting report must be good as he prepares for another week's contest.

Center left: "Where's that pink hall pass?" demands the faculty firing committee, consisting of "Dead-eye" Hemmer, "Crackshot" Bussard, and Marion "Mow-em-down" Feasel, chairman of said committee.

Center right: Former publications adviser, Miss Rowena Harvey, proudly displays her new Thunderbird in preparation for her journey to California last October.

Lower left: Unidentified Archer lasses display tremendous vigor with the cheer "South Side's Gonna Rise Again!" We regret to say that we are unable to disclose the maidens' names. Who are they?

Lower right: What, Frances stymied? No, Frances Stobaugh is just contemplating the advantages of her new typewriter over this ancient model.

1960 Totem Strives to Record Time Forever

Endeavoring to record Archer life forever in the 1960 Totem, the staff began work on the yearbook immediately after the beginning of school last fall. In order to organize the book, each staff member attended weekly meetings and often could be seen after school planning his individual section with the editors.

Due to the outstanding competence of the circulation staff, nearly 2,000 Totems were sold, a number far surpassing any previous record. As the year progressed, teachers and students were contacted, pictures taken and retaken, copy written, and page proofs read until at last the 1960 Totem could be presented to you, the South Side student body . . . and here are we, the Totem staff:

Editor . . . . . Katie Rastetter
Associate Editor . . . . . Penny Hunt
Circulation Managers . . . . . Geri Geller and Carol Miller
Sports Editors . . . . . Sandra Grodrian, Bob King, Frank Lude, and Wendell Rose
Club Editors . . . . . Susan Menze and Janet Lawry
Faculty Editors . . . . . Barb Frederick and Beth Golden
Class Editors . . . . . Sunny Kaade, Sandy Landree, Bessie Ferguson, and Judy Cramer
Music Editor . . . . . Joyce Brittenham
Events Editors . . . . . Sharon Probst and Marian McCallister
Photographers . . . . . Sam DeHaven, Mike Seaman, Ron Ehrmann, and Bob Thompson

Hard-working circulation managers Carol Miller and Geri Geller examine and record the day's receipts.

Exploring the unknown art of photography are club and faculty editors, standing, Beth Golden and Janet Lawry; kneeling, Barb Frederick and Susan Menze.

Comparing notes on the progress of their divisions and preparing to assign pictures are Joyce Brittenham, music editor, and Marian McCallister and Sharon Probst, co-editors of events.

Wendell Rose, intramural editor; Frank Lude and Bob King, sports editors; and Sandy Grodrian, girls' sports editor, are all set to go out on the job.

"Uh oh," moans copy editor Wendell Eicher as he points out an error to Pegeen Horth while Dick Rothberg types Totem copy.

Merle Baldwin

Under the direction of a new adviser, Mr. James Rohrabaugh, The South Side Times once again copped top honors in national contests for 1959-60 by publishing one of the finest high school newspapers in the country. Medalist Rating, the highest honor given by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, was awarded to The Times. For the spring of 1959 our weekly paper received the International Honor Rating and the George H. Gallup Award presented by Quill and Scroll, international honorary society for high school journalists.

Led by general managers Sue Sappenfield in the fall, Janet Terry from December to March, and Merle Baldwin the remainder of the year, the Times staff put out a paper of interest to the entire student body.

After an extensive campaign, the circulation staff broke all subscription records with 103% for the fall semester, and 101% in the spring. Each homeroom had 100%. The sales for both semesters were well above that of any other city school.

Humanitarians

The lives of many unfortunate persons are brightened by the kindness and thoughtfulness of Junior Red Cross members. Under the guidance of Mr. John Arnold, the members perform a worthwhile and commendable service.

Life Savers

With the help of Miss Virginia Ayers and Mr. Glen Stebing, members of the Safety Council perform various services destined to make the school and the community safer places in which to live and work.

Lower Left: Congratulations Safety Council! Left to right, Bev Liggett, Susie Hoard, Miss Virginia Ayers, and Sharon Gebhard display their pleasure in the award won by the Safety Council.

Lower Right: Linda Neff presents her ideas on safety to the other Safety Council members during a meeting.

City Slickers

The Know Your City Club, under the able guidance of Mr. Jack Weicker and Mr. Richard Block, acquaints students with Fort Wayne by presenting new facts and giving further knowledge about historical sights and buildings in our city. The members hear speakers, take trips to all parts of the city, and study its history.

Boosters

Most of our students could not last through our thrilling ball games if it weren't for the Booster Club. The members have the responsibility of selling refreshments at our home games to provide money for the needs of the school and the yell leaders. The sponsor is Mr. Laverne Harader.

Lower right: Preparing for the inevitable mob of hungry spectators are Booster Club members, left to right, Diane Aubrey, Heidy Hess, Sally Gilbert, Perry Schlie, and Dave Bishop.

Lower left: "Three cokes, please." Thirsty Archers take advantage of half-time to purchase much-needed refreshment.

Scientific Academicians

Jr. Academy of Science promotes outstanding studies of scientific matters among its members and provides a way for students interested in science to get together and discuss their ideas. The club is made up of five sections: Astro Physics, Nuclear Physics, Radio, Math, and Meteorology. Each member of the Jr. Academy of Science is affiliated with the section that most interests him. Mr. Don Weaver, Mr. Robert White, Mr. Richard Bussard, and Mr. Robert Weber, the club sponsors, aid the members in their study of science.

Lower Left: Katherine Misegades and Chuck Leopold prepare to take the daily weather reading which they will add to a chart of weekly weather observations made by the Meteorology Club members.

Lower Right: Bob Thompson looks on as Mike Church prepares to add vitamin pills to a plant growth project which will be Bob's exhibit for the science fair.

Center: Star gazing tonight, boys? Don Nelson, Mike Bradley, and Mr. White set up the telescope in anticipation of a clear starlight night.

Biologists

The members of the Bio Experimenters Club, under the direction of Mr. Nicholas Pipino, strive to increase their knowledge of biology, to perfect their skills in biology, and to understand the importance of science in their lives. Any student interested in the aims of this club is eligible for membership.

Lower Right: Oh, the lives of a guinea pig and a small white mouse! Left to right, Pam Punsky, Dave Moody, and Sandra Stouder exhibit their furry friends at a Bio Experimenters' meeting.

Shutterbugs

Under the direction of Mr. Richard Shellenberger, Camera Club members learn about all phases of photography. The club has its own equipment for developing, printing, and enlarging photographs; and the members have access to the club darkroom at any time during the school day.

Cameramen

Members of Visual Education operate the projectors for classroom films. Without these students, films would be impossible. Mr. Ernest Walker prepares the members for their valuable service.

Lower center: So that's what they look like inside! Betty Pherson adjusts the projector reel as Barb Dennis checks the mechanism in preparation for a classroom film.

Bottom: Preparing the screen for another film are Vis-Ed members Claudia Bradley, Ira Hartman, and Dick Camp.

Sharpshooters

With Mrs. Mildred Luse and Mr. Alfred Hemmer as instructors, members of Girls' Rifle Club learn how to use guns safely, how to care for them, and how to improve their shooting ability.

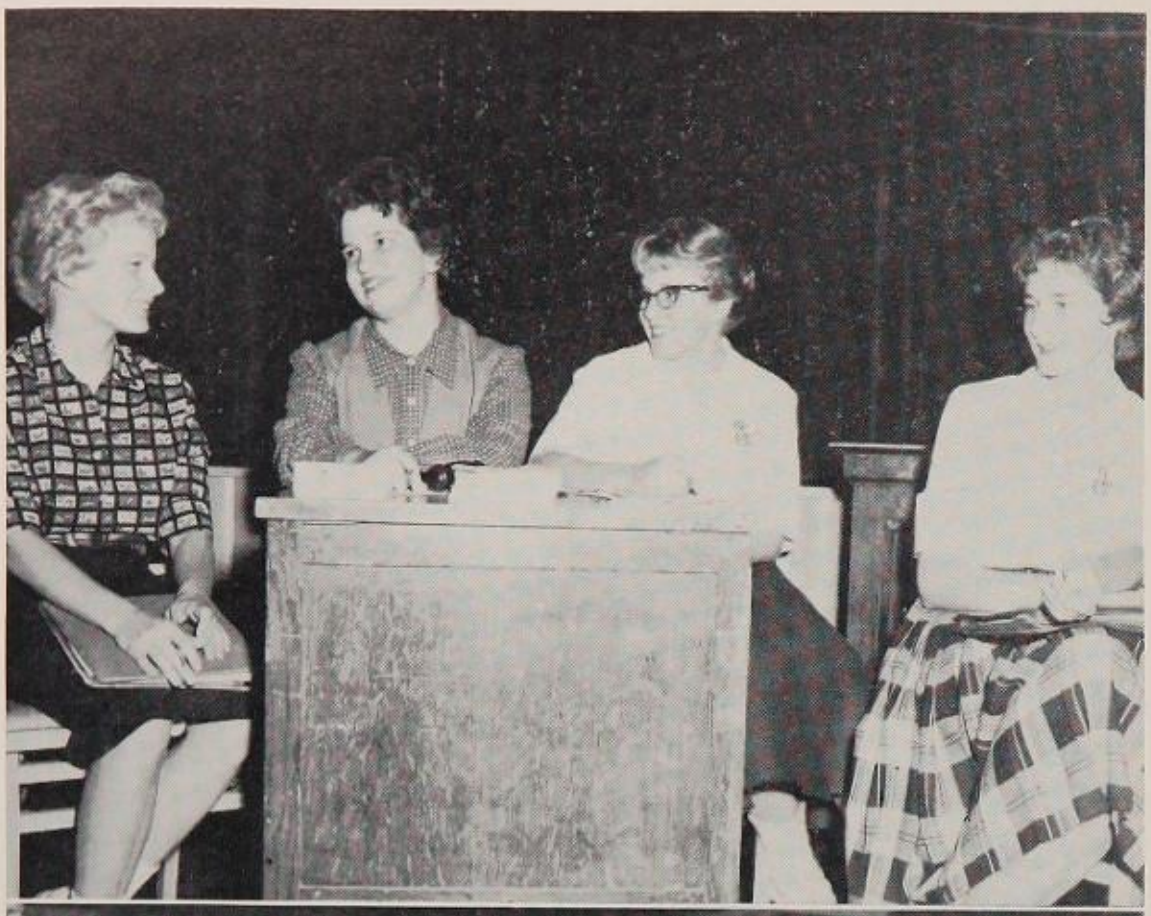
Riflemen

Open to all boys interested in improving their marksmanship, Boys' Rifle Club provides excellent training in the care and use of a rifle. Under the direction of Mr. Stephen Berg, the boys gain skill on the school range.

Lower Center: How has the marksmanship been? Left to right, Mr. Berg, Mike Durnell, David Lane, and Kent King examine the targets and shooting records of the Rifle Club members.

Bottom: Ready! Aim! Fire! Members of Boys' Rifle Club prepare to hit that bull's-eye.



Jr. Literati

Meterites, under the leadership of Mrs. Florence Emshwiller, provides literary interest for freshman and sophomore girls who maintain averages of B or better in English. The girls give plays and write original poems, plays, and short stories throughout the year.

Top: Sue Kelly, treasurer, discusses Meterites' financial transactions with, left to right, Sandy Thorn, president; Sue Horth, vice-president; and Sue Smith, secretary.

Philo is the literary club for junior and senior girls with the same qualifications as Meterites. This year the members chose to study George Bernard Shaw as a special project. The club also provides writing and acting opportunities for its members. Mrs. Evlyn Spray is the sponsor.

Jr. Librarians

Top: Is it a good book, girls? Left to right, Sue Seibel, vice-president; Cindy Hart, president; and Marsha Rolf, point recorder of the Library Club, pause for a moment to look at an interesting book.

Center: Hurry! Hurry! Hurry! Library Club members Kathy Lee and Bethany Bond work diligently checking out and filing books during the Friday afternoon rush.

Faculty Aids

Many students lend helping hands to the teachers during their free periods. These students make up the Service Club. Guided by Mr. Ora Davis, the Service Club has a banquet each year, at which time the members elect the senior who has done the most for the school. This person is awarded the Randolph Jacobs Trophy.

Lower Right: Mr. Ora Davis, sponsor of the Service Club, looks on as Nancy Jones presents the Randolph Jacobs Trophy to Janet Terry, outstanding service worker of the year.

Y-Men

Hi-Y, a club for junior and senior boys under the sponsorship of Mr. Robert Weber, helps to instill and maintain high ideals and build Christian character. The boys provide a Bible reading each Monday morning and hold an annual "Best-Girl" banquet.

Top: "Hey girls! Want to join Hi-Y?" beams Terry Berk, president. Other officers, left to right, Bill Lentz, Tom Cooper, Dave Redmond, George Pifer, and Roger McNett heartily join in the invitation.

Center: Steve Meyers and Chuck Jellison look on as Mr. Robert Weber and Terry Berk formally induct two new members into Hi-Y.

Athletes

The Lettermen's Club is made up of boys who have earned a letter for their participation in sports. The main events of the year are a dance and a banquet. Mr. Ora Davis aids the boys in many useful projects around the school, including a Christmas time collection of canned goods for the needy. The purpose of the organization is to create and maintain high standards of conduct and sportsmanship.

Lower Left: Our Lettermen diligently (?) work to beautify the school's grounds. Here Bill Spindler and Bob Haag rake, directed by Dan Tritch as Ken Howe sleeps.

Homemakers

Vesta, the goddess of hearth and home, inspired the name for the home economics club. The members, under the leadership of Mrs. Lois Murphy, learn the finer points of homemaking. Their meetings include tours, speakers, and demonstrations.

Top: Nancy Ryan conducts a Vesta meeting with the assistance of the other officers, left to right, Judy Weber, Carol Downhour, and Nancy Jones.

Center: Mr. Tom Roland demonstrates the use of fabrics to the Vesta members.

Rembrandts

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Ruth Fleck, members of the Art Club work on many different types of artistic projects. This club creates a greater appreciation of art and teaches how it can be useful and profitable.

Lower right: Busily displaying their artistic talents are, left to right, Paul Sorg, Bonnie Adams, Mr. Harold Radatz, Judy Godman, and Carol Doelling.

Lower left: Artists Marcia Mosel, Ann Plogsterth, and Bob Griffiths prepare to wield the paint brush for Honorary Arts Club.

Orators

Wranglers is a club to fit the needs of those interested in speech. The members take part in several speech meets throughout the year at Howe Military Academy, North Side High School, New Haven High School, Ball State Teachers College, and Purdue University. This club also has a one-act play festival for its members. Wranglers is under the sponsorship of Mr. Robert Storey.

Star Performers

The purpose of Masque and Gavel is to give special training to those students who are interested in dramatics and to develop in the student body a broader appreciation of dramatic literature. The members put on several productions under the direction of Miss Ann Arber. The members also participate in the traditional school-wide assemblies.

Lower Left: "Help! Robbers!" Merle Baldwin takes dictation from JoAnn High in a play while Jim Jackson and Judy English "steal" the show.

Lower Right: Joyce Brittenham, program chairman, and Pegeen Horth, treasurer, study the Christmas Assembly script.

Societas Latina

The Latin Club, made up of Latin students with two or more semesters and an average of B or better in Latin, strives to promote interest in the culture of the Romans. Mrs. Anne Redmond and Mr. Fred Hellman sponsor this club.

Top: Stan Redding and Ann Plogsterth devotedly shine up Cicero for the next Latin Club meeting.

Center: A typical Roman street scene? Ed McClure and Dieter Hillerbrand engage in battle as Stan Redding, Todd Thompson, and Don Nelson nonchalantly go about their business.

Playwrights

The Assembly Workshop is a committee responsible for planning and writing the traditional programs at Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter. They also plan the school-wide Spring Talent Show. This efficient group is guided by Miss Ann Arber.

Lower Right: Left to right, Gretchen Meister, Steve Meyers, John McNett, and JoAnn High portray a family in the traditional religious Thanksgiving Assembly.

Architects

Mr. Thomas Polite advises the members of Designers Associated in their study and work of designing houses, automobiles, and general drafting.

Top: Mike Lovette displays Allan Flowers' model automobile which won Honorable Mention in the Fisher Body Craftsman Guild to, left to right, Lex Smuts, Thomas Fawley, and Ricky Kabisch.

Center: Mr. Thomas Polite watches Lex Smuts, Ricky Kabisch, Thomas Fawley, and Mike Lovette discuss a new design.

Bowmen

To foster skills in the use of the bow and arrow, the ancient sport of Robin Hood, is the purpose of the Archery Club. Under the direction of Mr. Virgil Graber, the members perfect their bowmanship.

Lower Left: All together now—one, two, three! Archery Club officers, left to right, Susan Whitman, vice-president; Marilyn Doyle, secretary-treasurer; and Jim Wolfe, president, stretch their bows as Mr. Graber, Archery Club sponsor, watches attentively.

CHEERLEADERS

Five peppy girls, pictured above, left to right, Sally Dill, Sharon Zelt, Margo Dixon, Janet Lawry, and Barb Wallace, were selected by a committee to cheer the Archer teams on to victory this year. These effervescent students are the reason why the Green and White continue fighting when the chips are down. Working together with the Reserve squad, the Varsity yell leaders plan and present the various pep sessions throughout the school year.

The varsity squad introduced a new type of football uniform this year, consisting of green sweaters and slacks. They also spent a great deal of time making huge green pom poms to add spark to their yells.

After the sport season, the cheerleaders spent many hours training candidates for next year's squad. At this time Miss Helen Pohlmeyer, new sponsor of the cheerleaders, presented the varsity squad with their school letters.

Lively Reserve cheerleaders, kneeling, Sharon Eitman and Jeanie Carroll, and, standing, Sylvia Ehrman, Sheri De Young, and Sharon Carrel showed much enthusiasm in leading the student body in peppy yells.

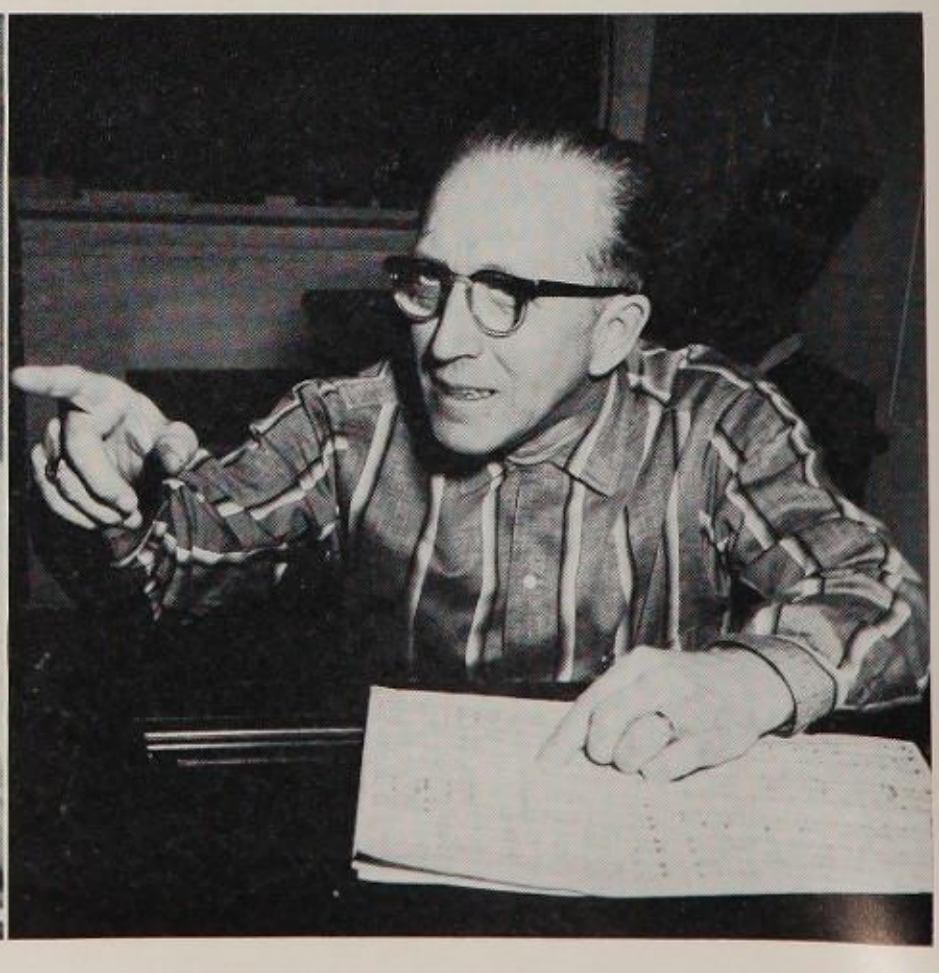
Melody-Making Archers Active in Choir, Madrigal

These pretty Archers, Sally Capps, Sandy Yaggy, and Diane Meyer are the very capable accompanists of the choir.

Mr. Hostetler, director of the choir, seems to be pointing out a bad note, one of his more frequent duties.

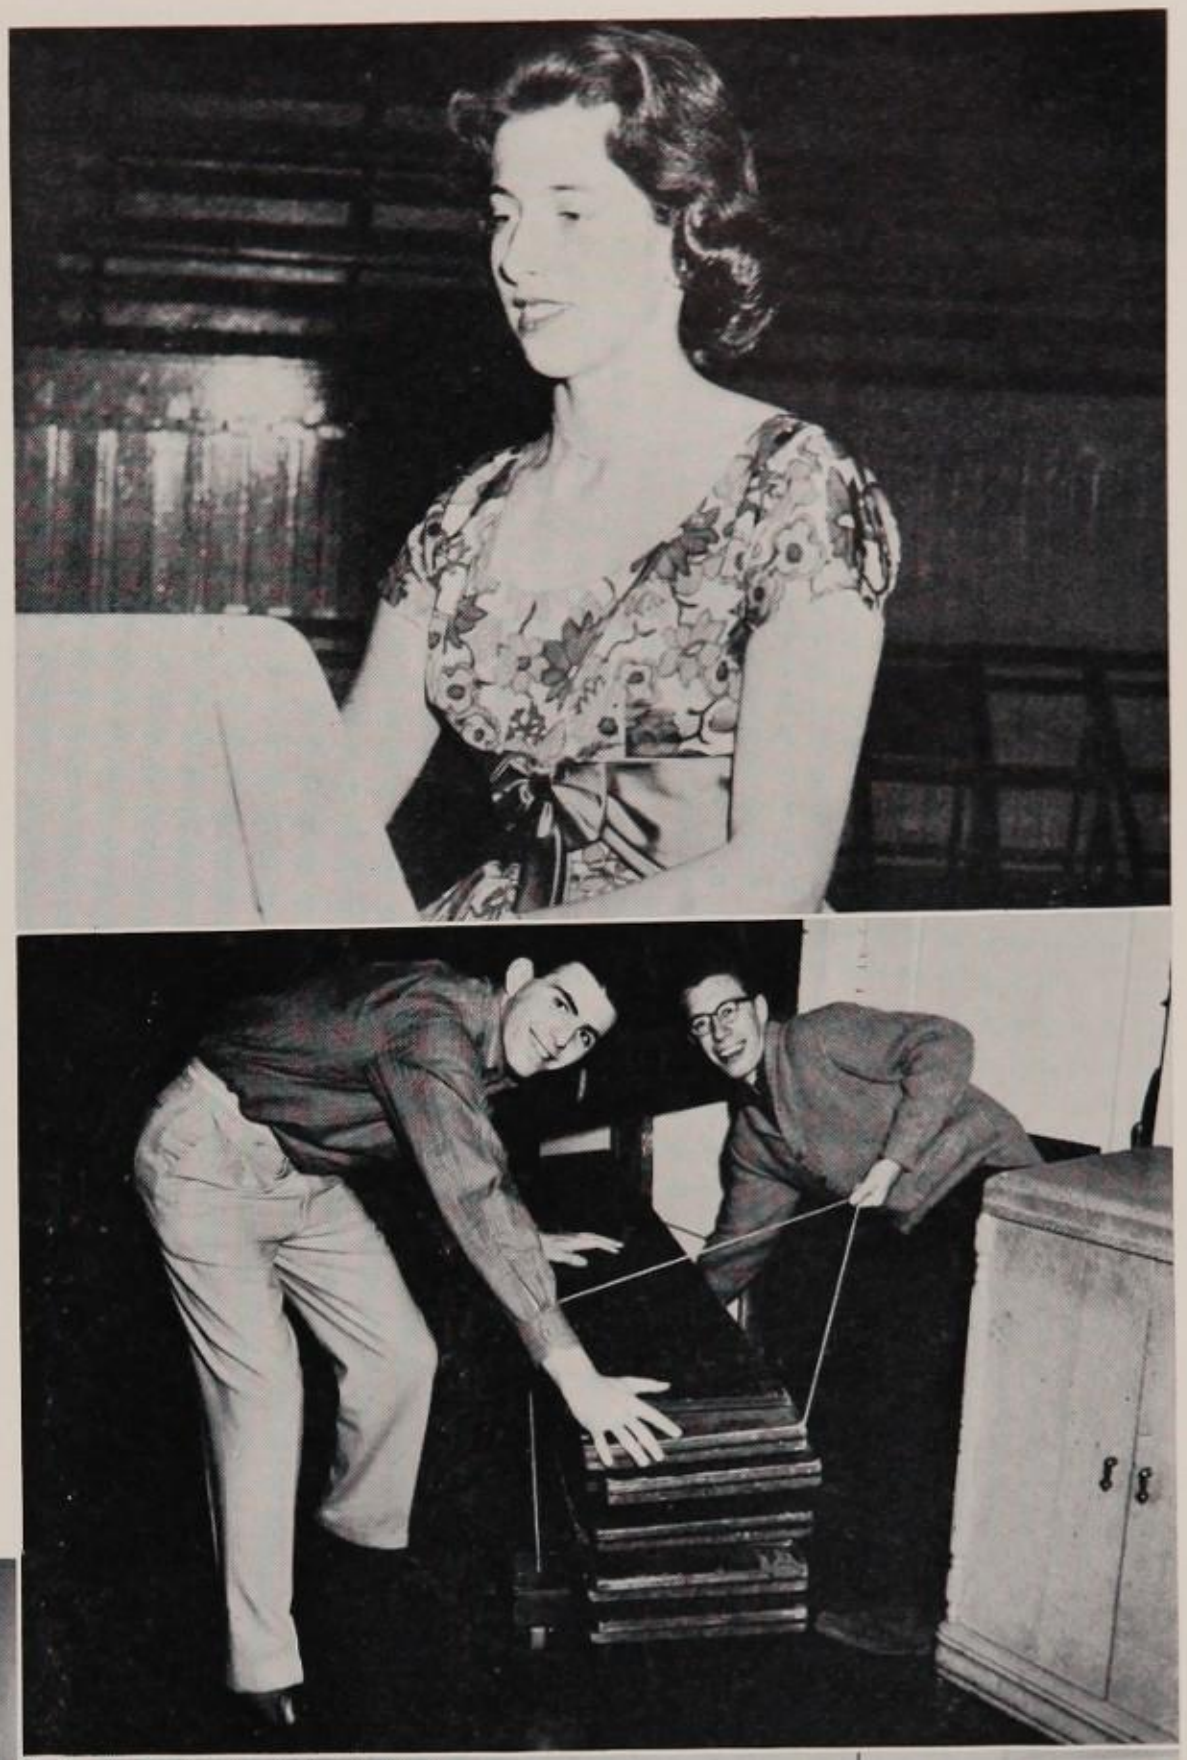


Top: The students heard many melodic strains from the organ this year played by Sharon Probst, organist for the choir.

Center: Don't work too hard, boys! Chuck Jellison and Dick Rothberg are shown performing one of their many tasks as director's assistants.

Lower right: This very casual looking group is the Madrigal Choir, an organization made up of the more talented members of the choir.

Lower left: Marcia Mosel receives a phone call, and Janet Terry diligently writes down the message. These two efficient girls acted as the head secretaries for the choir this year.



This talented foursome, consisting of Allen Steere, Gretchen Meister, Mike Church, and Cindy Miller, pleased many people with its instrumental harmony.

Find any unusual music, Mr. Drummond? As director of the band and orchestra, Mr. Drummond has led his talented musicians in many superb concerts.

Mr. Davis –

This past year in Chemistry has really been interesting, and stimulating too! I've enjoyed being in your class and, believe it or not, I've enjoyed servicing too.

Sincerely, Carol Miller (My pen ran out of ink)

P.S. You'll be the first to know when I flunk college chemistry

Can You Imagine?

Kellys Earn All City Berths

On the Gridiron

Seniors Jim Olinske and Ken Howe hang up their football jerseys while junior Jim Dawson readies his shoes for next season. Olinske earned first string honors as a guard, while Howe, an end, and Dawson, a tackle, were placed on the second team.

On the Court

Dave Barrett explains a play to teammate Dave Hickman following their selection as members of the 1959-60 all city basketball squad. Both seniors, the boys led the basketballers on offense and defense, closing out fine prep careers.

Cross Country Team Places Fifth in Sectional

After a late season start, South Side's varsity cross country squad rounded into shape to again qualify for the State Meet. It was the second straight year that the Kelly harriers placed in the Sectional as a team, although the runners finished with an unimpressive 2-3 mark.

Junior Al Rainbolt consistently paced the Green as he and senior Sam Green led the pack home in competitive meets. Both runners were clocked well under 11 minutes on the two mile courses run by the Kellys. Backing up the first two harriers were juniors Dave Reece and Paul Romey with sophomores Jim Porter, Terry Dibert, and Larry Lee.

Victories this season included a 21-23 win over Elmhurst's Trojans and a 19-39 defeat of Concordia's Cadets. The three losses consisted of a reversal at the hands of Central and Kokomo in a triangular meet and two more by New Haven's Bulldogs.

Coach Charles "Porky" Holt can look forward to next season as the harriers will lose only one runner from this year's Sectional squad. Rainbolt, whose best time was a fine 9:43, will definitely form a strong nucleus for the 1960 team.

Gridders Battle to 4-5 Slate

After showing considerable promise in the early season, South Side's 1959 varsity gridders finished their schedule with a losing 4-5 slate. The Archers had a one game improvement over last year's 3-4-1 record, although tying for the cellar position in the City Series race. The Kellys posted an impressive 4-2 record until losing the last three games.

The Archers opened the season with a win over Anderson, the first victorious opener in ten years. The following week the record was evened when second-rated Indianapolis Shortridge defeated the Green 31-0.

After two away contests, South defeated Hammond Morton and city rival North Side. Morton led the Green at halftime, but the home forces fought back to defeat the Black 14-6. The 14-6 win over the Redskins was the first since 1952, as the Green came from behind to roll over the Red.

Central's Tigers won the City Series race as they pounded South 27-0 in the latter's fifth game. The Green easily routed Royerton 40-0 the following week with the Kelly benchmen playing the entire last three quarters.

Traveling to Goshen and Huntington, the Bowmen found the opposition too tough to conquer. Goshen tromped the visitors 33-0 in a wet, muddy contest; and the Green's fourth defeat was a 34-7 loss to the Vikings of Huntington.

Central Catholic dumped the Archers into the City Series basement as the Purple bumped the Green 25-0 in the seasonal windup for both squads.

Coach Robert Gernand was aided by Bob Baker, a former Royerton coach, and returnees Warren Hoover, Glen Stebing, and Wayne Scott. Baker directed the varsity line, which handed several physical beatings to its opposition. Hoover headed the Reserves, while Stebing and Scott handled the Frosh squad.

Although the Kellys will lose nearly their entire line, Coach Gernand expects the 1960 squad to be a serious City Title contender. Thirteen lettermen will return, including this year's backfield intact.

Football Season Highlights

Kellys Play Under New Lights

The first step in the remodeling of the South Side Stadium was completed this fall when a new lighting system, giving brilliance to the field, was added. The system consists of six 80-foot poles, each holding twenty-four 1,500-watt lamps. The new lights were used for all of South Side's home games, beginning with the Hammond Morton game on September 5.

Work on the lights began in August when concrete bases were laid for the poles. The poles were then assembled on the ground; and, following the removal of the old posts, the new system was installed.

This system can now hold its own with the lights on Northrop Field, which previously was the only well-lit gridiron in the area. Under such brilliance, Archer players, coaches, and fans will enjoy many games to come.

At the annual Football Banquet Mr. A. L. Berk, member of the Dad's Club, presents Dr. Gerald A. Somers, past president of the club, with a plaque honoring his outstanding service.

Archers Defeat City Foe North

South Side's football squad defeated arch rival North Side this year in the Kelly's fourth game of the season. Although the Redskins scored early in the game to take a 6-0 lead, the Green moved the ball hard in the second quarter and scored on a beautiful aerial to Ken Howe, end, to make it 7-6 at the half.

The Archers took definite command in the second half resulting in another seven points when fullback John Somers bulled across the goal line for the touchdown. The contest ended in a 14-6 score, South's first victory over city opponent North since 1952. The victory was the Green's third win against one loss.

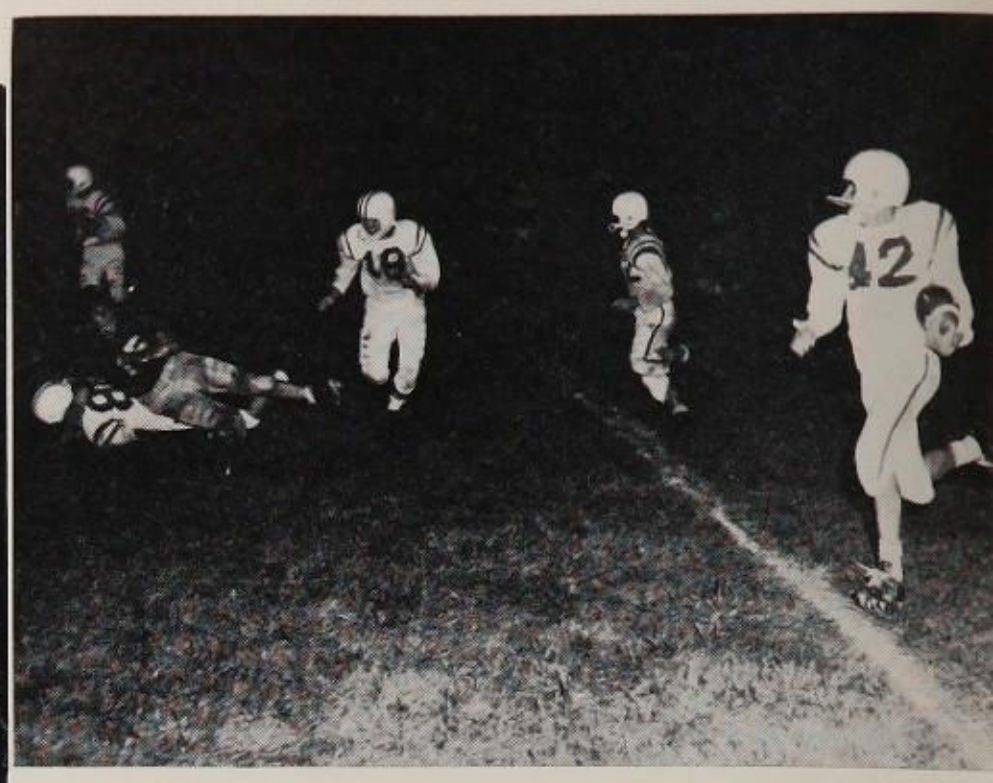
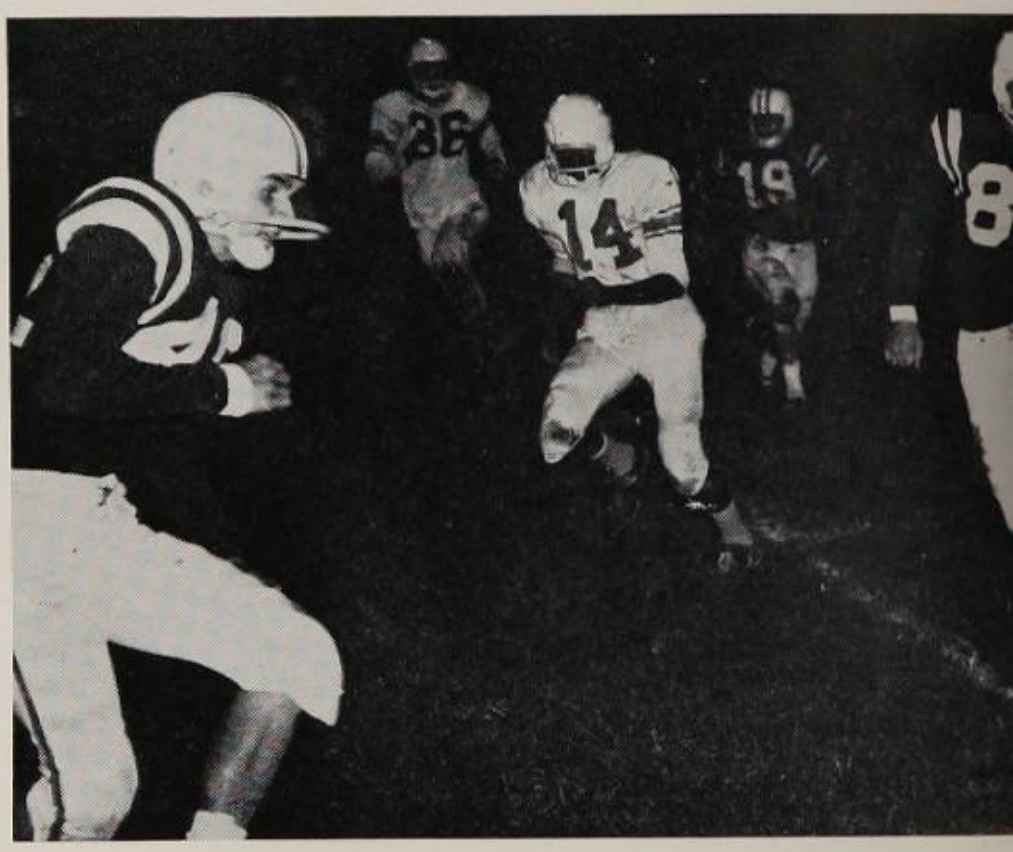
Injured Archer tackle, Steve Pohl, gives moral support to his struggling teammates in the C.C. match.

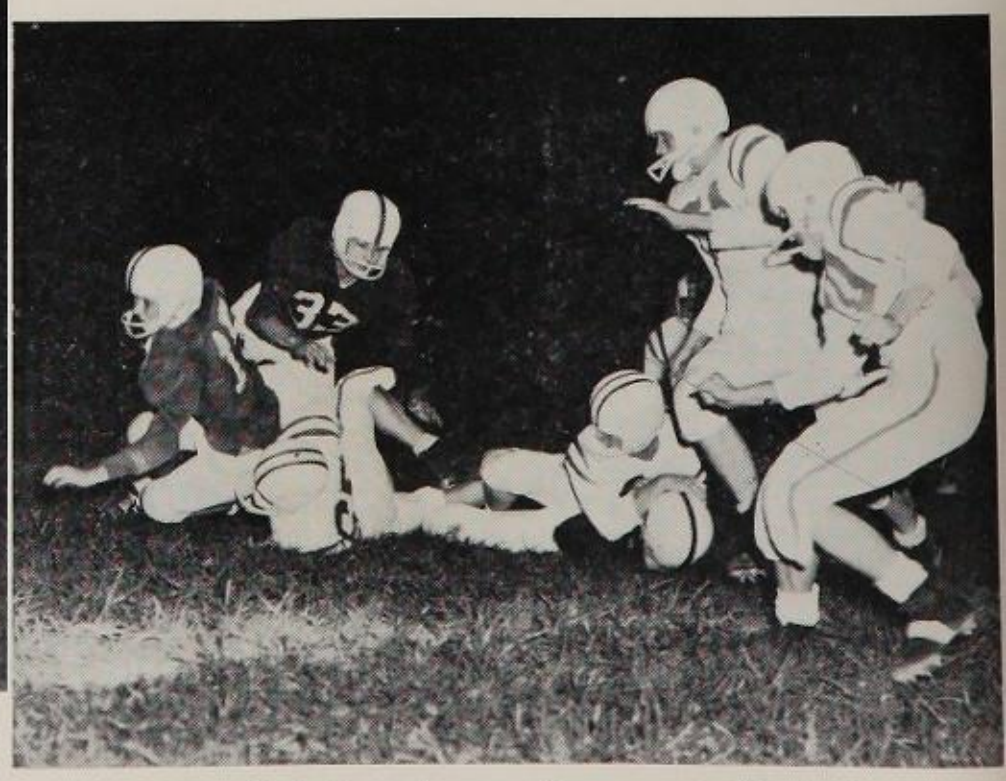


"Try to catch me!" challenges Steve Burton, taking off for a gain in the Hammond Morton game.

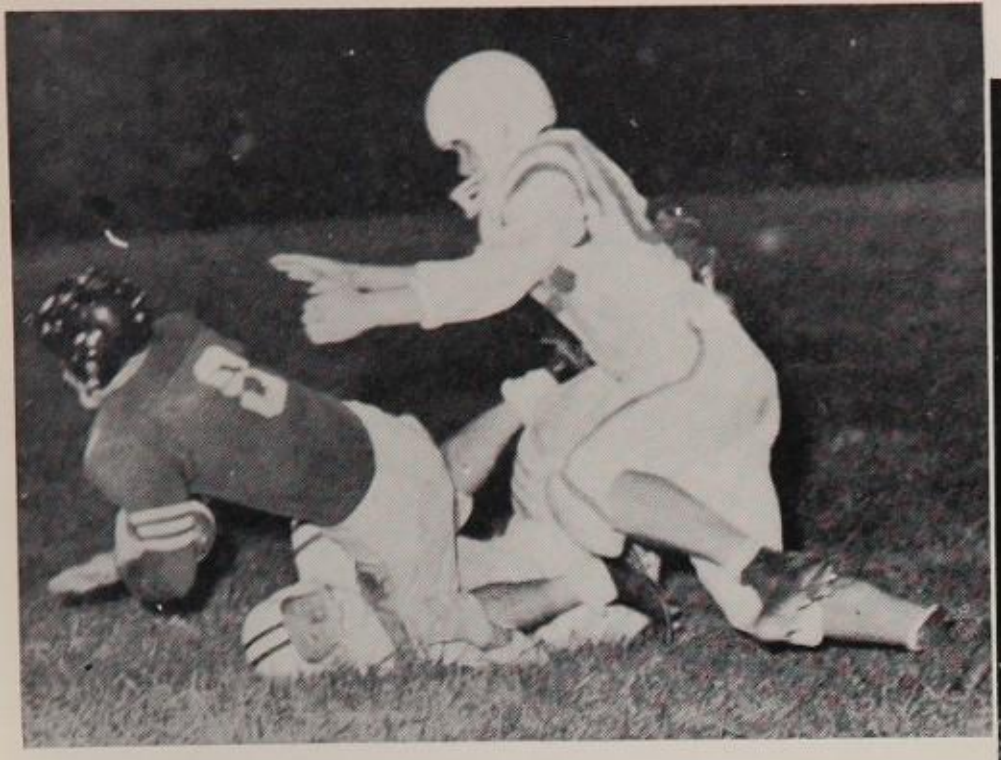
Scrunch! Tom Duff is hit hard by two Irish after making a considerable gain in the C.C. game.



Cha, cha, cha! Ken Tewel, Huntington's quarterback, seems to be dancing the cha-cha instead of faking to his halfback, while Tom Duff and Dan Tritch close in.



A swarm of Archers down a Royerton halfback for a huge loss during the 40-0 rout of the Redbirds.

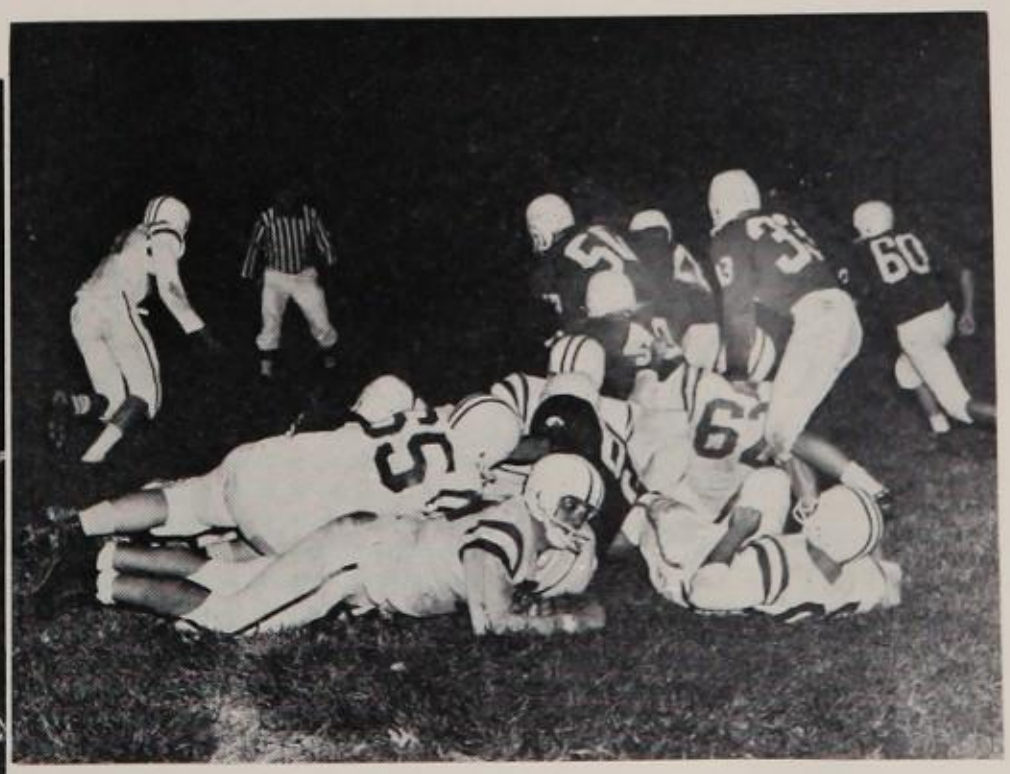


"Grunt!" says Chris Parrott as he and Steve Druart bring down Morton's Dick Florence after an end sweep.

Kelly halfback Bob Shine is about to be brought down by an Irish defensive back in the season's final City Series match.

"Shall we dance?" Ken Howe asks a Huntington end for a dance as he locks arms for a pass interference penalty.

Central's all-state halfback T.C. Williams cuts in to take a pass in the end zone as Steve Burton and Chris Parrott defend in vain.



"Button, button, who's got the button?" North Side scores its only touchdown with an end sweep in the 14-6 Kelly victory.

Cagemen Finish Season With 10-11 Mark

South Side's varsity basketball squad, under the mentorship of Don Reichert, closed out the 1959-60 hardwood season with a 10-11 record. With senior Dave Barrett leading the way, the Bowmen seemed headed for the fifth straight city series title. The Green stumbled twice at the hands of Central's Tigers and the Irish of Central Catholic to ruin a 4-0 record in local competition and to place second to the city and sectional champion Tigers.

The Kelly's trimmed crosstown rival North Side twice in the season and dropped Central one time, although the Bengals defeated the Green in two later matches. The other outstanding victory of the year was the Archers 72-34 blast of Terre Haute Gerstmeyer's Black Cats.

The 6 foot 5 inch Barrett closed his high school career as the leading Archer scorer, collecting 125 points for a 13.8 per game average. Forward Dave Hickman, who improved rapidly throughout the season, was the other senior on the starting Archer lineup. Coach Reichert loses three other seniors from his squad in Ken Howe, Gary Gardner, and Gus Wade.

The situation looks bright for next season as seven members of the tournament twelve will return, including starters Bob Bolyard, Acie Eldridge, and Ken Leakey. Steve Hargan and Ken Robinson, who both displayed some fine relief performances for the Green, will bolster the varsity material next season as will reserves Ron Zigler and Martin Platupe.

Archers Compile 34 Consecutive Wins

South Side's mighty Archers entered an unsurpassable record into the city sports annals this season. The mark, a victory streak of 34 consecutive wins over city competition, was accomplished by Kelly hardwood squads of the past five seasons under the leadership of head coach Don Reichert. Included in the record are four city and sectional titles, the 1958 titles being on the path to the state championship.

The most interesting series of the five year period was the spirited competition with mid-town rival Central, who finally succeeded in breaking the Kelly spell 58-44 in the second game of this season's rivalry. In eleven tries, the Green were forced into four overtime contests in order to bring home a victory. Outstanding among the overtimes was the 1958 sectional win, believed by many to have been the "little state" tourney.

A cry to be remembered by all developed in this era which will undoubtedly stand for many years to come . . . "South Side Will Rise Again."

Tennis . . .

The 1960 varsity tennis squad faced a rebuilding season under the direction of Coach Everett Havens. Facing a tough fifteen match schedule, the Kellys met competition with only two returning veterans, Dave Bosselmann and Dave Briggs. Rounding out the varsity five were Gerd Biewald, freshman; Larry Chen, junior; and Steve Cook, sophomore, who all showed promise for next season.

Cindermen Show Promise

Under the watchful eye of Coach Bob Gernand, the 1960 varsity track squad developed into a strong combination. With several blue ribbon performers leading the way, the Kellys' power was second only to that of city foe North Side, the area's perennial powerhouse on the cinders.

Several outstanding runners copped individual honors for the Green. Sprinters Bob Shine, Tom Duff, Bill Lentz, and Karl Bandemer headed the speedsters; while Carl Johnson and Win Moses grabbed honors in the hurdles. Distance men Bob Bolyard and Al Rainbolt proved their power as juniors, warning all prep runners of the future season.

Big Jim Dawson was consistent in the shot put as his fifty-foot heaves easily earned the Green first place points.

Backing up the blue ribbon winners were the VonGunten twins and Nate Norment, a sophomore speedster. John Somers, Ron Hey, Don Eisenacher, and Steve Stults gained team points for their efforts in the field events.

The Kellys' team balance enabled them to double in many events, picking up additional points during competition. Bandemer and Duff were valuable in the dashes, while Shine and Lentz made fine showings in the 440. Moses and Johnson pushed state hurdle champ Jack Hallenbeck of North Side for honors in the stick-stepping competition. Dawson, whose record-breaking performances earned him state-wide recognition, paired with Somers to pick up field event points.

Motz's Mural Men

The intramural program at South Side has been for the last thirty-one years an intricate part of the development of this school. Twenty different sports are offered for every boy from early fall to the last days of school. This gives each boy a chance to participate in any sport that he particularly enjoys.

Upper right: The man who more than any other is responsible for the success of the intramural program at South Side is the affable Mr. Clair Motz.

Center: Bob Bechert, center, and Ed Freed, right, assist Vaughn Correll in preparing to bowl. The three boys were the fall bowling champions.

Bottom: Volleyball, one of the most popular intramural sports, is enjoyed by these active players.

GAA Aims for

Mrs. Alice Keegan and Mrs. Madge Schone have guided more than 400 girls through another successful year of GAA. The Girls' Athletic Association is a club open to all girls who enjoy healthful sports and want to work together to promote good sportsmanship. Upperclass girls meet after school on Monday nights, and freshman girls participate on Friday nights.

Activities such as speedball, basketball, volleyball, tumbling, track, and softball are accomplished under the supervision of Mrs. Keegan and Mrs. Schone, sponsors; and the GAA officers, Bella Dyson, sports manager; Jane Glass, president; Connie Denis, sec-

Extra sports include the tennis, badminton, and ping pong tournaments. The largest event is the annual Spring Show. The theme of this year's show, "Children's Fantasy," was carried out by all girls in the department.

Annual banquets are held in GAA, at which time awards are given for participation. Numerals, letters, and pins are awarded to girls having 300, 1,500, and 3,000 points. The senior girl with the highest number of points has her name engraved on a gold plaque.

Student Life

Fabulous

"How will I ever find my classes?" bewildered freshmen say to themselves as Mr. Don Reichert explains the maze of South Side halls.

"But we can't study!" It looks as though visions of summer dance through the heads of Archer seniors Beth Golden, Penny Hunt, and Merle Baldwin, preparing to hit the books.

Football,

Who's cold? Certainly not these enthusiastic Archers, Sharon Krakower, Marcia Melching, Alice Ashton, and Nancy Pfeiffer, bundled up to cheer on the football team.

After defeating North Side, these victorious, but weary, Archers, led by Bill Spindler, anticipate the fate of their next foe.

Fall . . .

Wow, look at those lower extremities! Seniors reveal their true character at the Times fall picnic.

"But I've only got five layers on," grins Sue Sappenfield at a chilly football game as Marian McCallister and Steve Meyers take time out to chat.

Friends

"Okay, now what do I do?" asks Annette Plesniak at the mercy of Jeff Roth and friends in the cafeteria.

Typical fifth period in the cafeteria? No, just guitarists Dave Schwalm and Steve Black leading a hearty group in an old-fashioned community sing.

Upper left: "If you ask me," breathes Marilyn Monroe, that is Sunny Kaade, as she advises Philoites during the Senior skit.

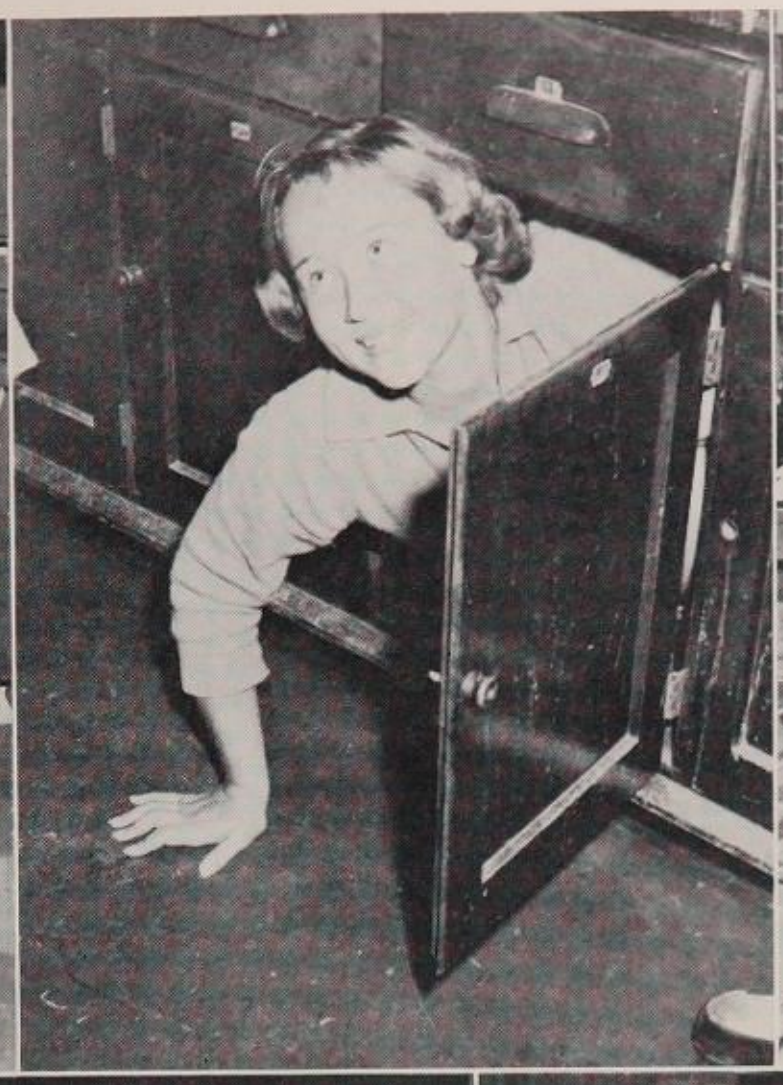
Upper right: Hurry, hurry, copy editors! It's getting late! The busy copy staff rushes to complete another issue of The Times.

Lower right: Hold that tiger! Bob Lee, mighty Archer, closes in on fleeing Bluffton Tiger, better known as Gene Jacobs.



Upper left: Geisha girl for a night, Molly Dixon captivates the spirit of "Teahouse of the August Moon" to the entertainment of fellow juniors.

Upper center: What is this? C12 H49 O83 I95? No, just Sue Seibel, who happens to be crawling out of a cabinet in the chemistry room.

Upper right: "Duh-h-h," sighs Sue Sappenfield as she gives a rousing pep talk to the Times staff.

Lower right: "Man, dig this beat," Linda Amos seems to be saying to Sheri DeYoung as they display their talent at the Junior Banquet.

Upper left: Archer warriors usher scalped Redskins back to the reservation after a pep session.

Upper right: Strange as it may seem, senior boys Byron White, Frank Lude, Bob Gifford, and Dan Oesch prepare to wield a dishtowel at the Senior Reception!

Center: So this is why students take speech! Hardworking orators decorate a Christmas tree under the watchful eye of Coach Storey.

Lower left: "This is a basketball," exclaims Kenny Howe. "You may not realize it, but this basketball is related to sportsmanship."

Lower right: "Dancing is fun, just look at us!" beam instructors Merle Baldwin and Dick Rothberg as fascinated spectators carefully observe.

Upper right: It's a big stretch, but Chris Parrott finally reaches the royal head of Dave Barrett to crown him King Kelly at the Lettermen's Dance.

Center: Hi-Y "Queen of Hearts" attendants, Margo Dixon, Susie Van Fossen, Merle Baldwin, and Helen Robinson assist queen Barb Wallace with her regal garb.

Lower left: 18,955 cans! Record-breaking lettermen prepare food donated for the needy families of Fort Wayne.

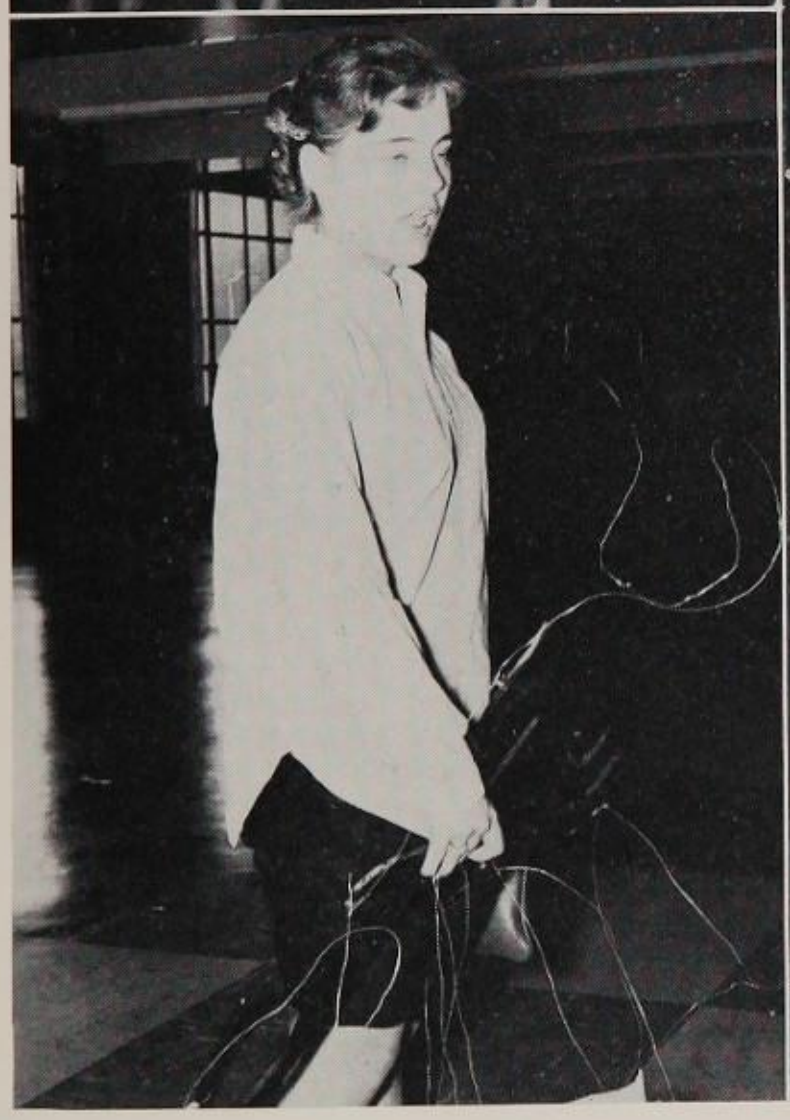
Lower right: Jan Martindale finds selling pop at the Philo dance quite amusing as do her customers.

Upper left: "When you come to the end of a lollipop," sing out these unhappy children at the County Fair. Barb Eggeman, Lois Levine, Lynn Goldman, and Judy Franklin pour out their troubles to a sympathetic audience at the Talent Show.

Upper right: And here we have some lovely dancers straight from the Caribbean, Babette Jones and Marla Habecker, seated, and the three Dixons, Martha, Molly, and Margo, standing. These talented lasses prepare to practice their number for the Talent Show.

Lower left: Villainy triumphs! Ann Erickson is about to overcome the fair maiden better known as Annette Plesniak in spite of the valiant defense of Linda Silverman and Joan Stanton.

Lower right: No wonder Pegeen Horth and Barb Frederick wear such overjoyed smiles! Pegeen is shown tagging Barb as a new member of National Honor Society. Sixty-five seniors were chosen for this national high school society on the basis of scholarship, leadership, service, and character.



Upper left: Amid a Hollywoodish send-off, South Side's bid to fame, Janet Lawry, is presented with roses by Merle Baldwin as she prepares to depart for the Junior Miss America Contest. The expressions on the faces of Janet's friends reveal how they feel.

Lower left: "Oh how I hate to get up in the morning!" wails Katie Rastetter, one of the peppy participants in the prom cleaning up, as she gives her interpretation, complete with wire guitar, of the latest record of Elvis Presley.

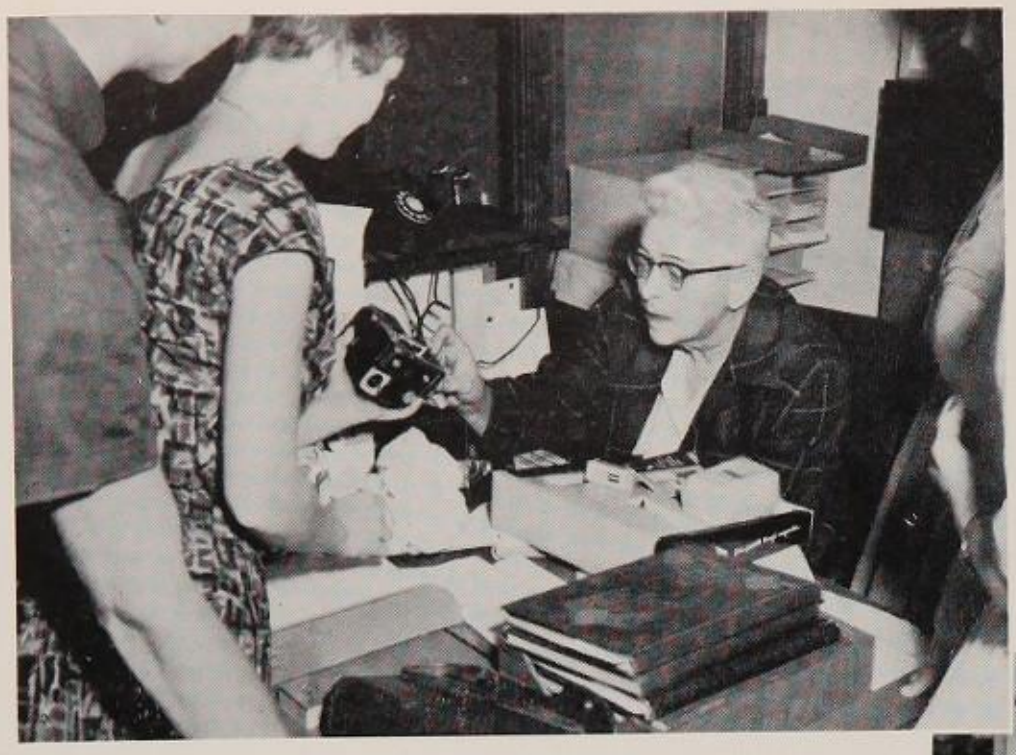
Lower right: "It's like gloomsville" is the apparent opinion of these beats who mistook the County Fair for a poetry session. Pam Olson, Phil Jones, front, and Jack Fitzgerald, Dan O'Laughlin, and Marilyn Bugg, back, take time out to meditate on the situation.

Traditional



Farewell Miss Harvey! Sue Sappenfield presents the former publications adviser with a present from the staff as Rowena Harvey prepares to retire after thirty-seven years of service.

Boo-boo-bee-doo! Susie Vesey, Sue Sappenfield, Bessie Ferguson, Penny Hunt, and Merle Baldwin turn back the clock to dance the Charleston at the Talent Show. Believe it or not, Marian McCallister is back there somewhere.

Proms,

Swish! Archers Diane Fredrick, Carolyn Kennedy, and Lois Levine wield paint brushes on settings for the Talent Show.

Spring . . .

Problems? Bob Duncan ponders the world's situation over a coke with friends at the juniors' "Aisle of Dreams."

Mr Davis —
Thanks for making chemistry so much fun. I don't think I'll ever forget the basketball games on Saturdays —
It was a pleasure to have had you as a teacher and a friend.

Mr. Davis,
I really enjoyed doing service work for you - I really worked hard! Thanks for being so helpful to me during class. I come back and see you next year when I'm flunking class at Michigan -
Sincerely,
Sally Burton

Mr. Davis,

Well, finally a chance to get my revenge,
"no!" Seriously, I have enjoyed chemistry and knowing you very much. Spilling sulfuric acid all over everyone has been loads of fun actually you are one of the most likeable teachers I know. Your personality is really quite appealing! I know you appreciate my service work a great deal. (I hear you snicker at the award today!!) I realize I should have done a little yoo, but I'll make it up this summer! My new typewriter has a "+" and "=" sign on it, so I'll really go to town on all your typing! You have been a great help though, in listening to all my time problems. I only wish we had more teachers
like you in this school! (I am serious!)
I'll be back to visit you — and type,
Have fun and be good to your cats).

Mr. Davis
I guess this is my only opportunity to say thank you for all your devotion for me (yes, even me!). Your complete appreciation for your students is probably much more than you realize. This year I've been working with you and for you. I'll try to remember what you said about relaying

Mr. Davis,

I wish I could express sufficiently my appreciation not only of myself but of my classmates for the job you have done. Your almost fanatical dedication to your word and to those you teach never ceases to amaze me. As I told Becky, I hope I can advantageously use your example as an inspiration when I begin my own work.

Sincerely,

Mr. Davis -
Many thanks for making chemistry as well as much fun as terribly interesting and stimulating. Also a second vote of thanks for you in during Katie's and my Atom blues!
Sincerely,
Penny Hunt
